

LACK OF FAITH

Church of To-Day Does Not Comprehend Christ.

And It Neglects the Second Advent of the Redeemer.

THOUGHTS FROM DR. BRIGGS TOBETH COMING PUBLICATION.

Chapters on the Immaculate Conception Expected to Excite the Greatest Criticism—Not to Be Regarded in the Light of a Miracle or a Violation of the Laws of Nature—Other Medical Departures

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—A local paper publishes a synopsis of the latest work of Prof. Charles A. Briggs of the Union Theological Seminary. The book, "The Messiah of the Gospels," is intended to follow "Messianic Prophecy," which caused so much commotion when published in 1887. It was the intention of Dr. Briggs to publish "The Messiah of the Gospels" in 1887, but the charges of heresy were brought against it, and it was compelled to defer publication until now. The dedication runs as follows:

Hezekiah Preacher Smith, True Scholar, Fair-minded and Unbiased in His Study of Holy Scripture, this book is dedicated in sympathy and love.

In the second chapter, Dr. Briggs has entered minutely into a discussion of the second advent. He is convinced that the faith of the church of the day is defective in that it does not believe in the return of Christ, and in its neglect of the second advent of our Lord. The chapters upon immediate conception will perhaps call for the most critical examination.

The blessed Virgin was residing in Nazareth of Galilee, betrothed to Joseph of the carpenter, and awaiting the promises of the Old Testament. The time for the marriage had not yet come. God had a higher appointment for her to fulfill than the mother of the Saviour.

The virgin conception of Jesus is announced by the archangel, is not to be interpreted as meaning that it was a mere violation of the laws of nature, but as meaning that it was about God himself present in Theophany.

The words of the angel imply a Theophany, and Dr. Briggs has shown that the coming of the spirit upon her was an invisible coming after the analogy after many passages of the old testament, yet the Virgin did not conceive in the second overshadowed her cannot be so interpreted.

"This annunciation represents the conception of Jesus as due to a Theophany. It does not rule out the doctrine of her pre-existence, although that doctrine is a legitimate inference. It represents an early and simple conception of the Virgin, the time for the marriage had not yet come. God had a higher appointment for her to fulfill than the mother of the Saviour.

The virgin conception of Jesus is announced by the archangel, is not to be interpreted as meaning that it was a mere violation of the laws of nature, but as meaning that it was about God himself present in Theophany.

WEIGEL ACQUITTED.

The Farm Hand Exonerated of the Charge of Having Counterfeited Money.

John Weigel was acquitted of the charge of having counterfeit money in his possession in the United States Court. He was a farm hand at St. Louis, Ill., and came to St. Louis to work. He was playing cards in a lodging house and he was accused of being a gambler. He was accused of having a dollar to a messenger to get him to leave. The messenger refused and said that he got the counterfeit. Weigel contended that he got the money from his former employer, a reputable farmer.

MORAN AND THOMPSON CASES.

They Are Being Investigated by the Grand Jury.

The Grand-Jury is investigating the cases of Michael Moran, who is charged with killing George W. Husey on Yelled Prophet's night, Oct. 2, at Jefferson City, Mo., and John Thompson, who is accused of having killed his son, George Thompson, colored, who is suspected of having poisoned Joseph Cunningham, sexton of St. Peter's Church, at Spring Avenue and Lindell boulevard, on Sept. 28.

A MILLION IS INVOLVED.

Title to a Tract of Land in Lima, O., Involved.

LIMA, O., Nov. 17.—The Circuit Court has given a decision which invalidates the title to a large quantity of land, part of which is in the business portion of the city. The Standard Oil Co.'s immense refinery is located on the land. The other land included, John Babbie died in 1890 leaving a large estate in which he gave his widow a life estate. She disposed of the estate in 1891, and died in 1893. Since then the heirs have been seeking to regain possession. The property involved is worth nearly a half million dollars exclusive of the refinery.

The Grand-Jury is investigating the other three in that he material is entirely new. It gives us more the esoteric teaching of Jesus and events of those prior to the resurrection of Jesus. The marks of deep and thorough reflection upon the person and life of Jesus.

Dr. Briggs has made a special study of the second advent of Christ. He makes the discussion of the second advent of greater importance than most theologians have done. He has brought out many new things to light that heretofore have remained hidden, or have at least been disregarded. Dr. Briggs views on the doctrine of the resurrection have aroused considerable comment. It was said that he was obscure. He says:

The resurrection is different from the other three in that he material is entirely new. It gives us more the esoteric teaching of Jesus and events of those prior to the resurrection of Jesus. The marks of deep and thorough reflection upon the person and life of Jesus.

Mrs. Bellis Felt Charged with Disturbing the Peace of Mrs. Armbruster.

A police summons charging Mrs. Bellis with disturbing the peace of Mrs. Armbruster, her landlady, was issued. Mrs. Bellis now lives at 103 North Eleventh street, but she did live in Mrs. Armbruster's premises, 103 North Fifteenth street, for some time in 1893. Since then the heirs have been seeking to regain possession. The property involved is worth nearly a half million dollars exclusive of the refinery.

Fitz's Bad Plight.

Held Without Bond for Causing Con Riordan's Death.

THE DECEASED WAS INTOXICATED WHEN HE FACED THE CHAMPION.

Fitz Pays No Struck Riordan on the Right Cheek With the Back of His Hand—Riordan Never Recovered Consciousness—Tom Walsh's Luck With Simmons—Sporting News.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 16.—Con Riordan, the athlete who was knocked unconscious last night by Bob Fitzsimmons, died at the Candace House at 8:30 this morning. At about 8 o'clock he was in the same state of unconsciousness which he had been in all evening, when his laborious breathing and nervous twitches of the muscles of his face and body warned the physicians that his death was approaching. At 8:15 o'clock his breathing had almost entirely stopped and at 8:30 Dr. D. N. Totman pronounced him lifeless. At his bedside at the time of his death were three physicians and about twenty members of the local sporting fraternity. Fitzsimmons when informed of his death was much affected and burst into sobs. The coroner was notified of his death at 8:45. Fitzsimmons has been locked up awaiting the action of the Coroner.

IT'S KNOCKED OUT.

Ferd Koenig, the premier American amateur sculler, denies that he has ever said anything calculated to reflect upon any of the members of the Western Rowing Club, to which he belongs, and I declare that he did not refer to the large crew as a gang of "cannons and cutters."

"Those boys are my friends," said he, "and those boys are my friends." In expressing a regret that they were ever allowed to in such a misleading way, I never intended any reflection on the members of the club, but I wanted to continue my membership with the westerns."

It up, but it broke again at Bullock. Unable to get another wheel at Bullock, he wrote to a axile—eight miles, in on-hour and a half, and the car was again in working order. Harding's time for the round trip was 85 min., ten minutes less than Grath's record, made twenty-four hours before.

Ferd Koenig's Denial.

Has Win Out.

When Bookmaker Tom Walsh gave $1,100 for Simmons the wise ones shook their heads in a knowing way and said that it was too much to pay for a selling plate. With only small purses to win with him across the river, it was predicted that his new owner would soon regret having purchased Simmons at such a price. Walsh, however, is a good bet and besides a very capable race horse, he is a much more valuable horse now than he was when he was supposed.

Simmons' new owner bid $400 on the son of Sir, out at Madison, Friday, and the bidding was still on when the meeting at Chicago will probably adjourn to-night. Local sports do not believe that there is a bona fide application from St. Louis.

Robber's Rosses Tax.

Schaefer gained slightly in last night's game with Ives, but the latter still has an almost insuperable lead. The match will be finished to-night. Ives has $500 to make to $100, while Schaefer is trying to pile up $100. The average is $100 a game, and Dutton, two of the best boxers, are paling around here. With 113 pounds up, Schaefer is on the course eleven-sixteenths of a mile in 10.8 seconds. Ives' record for his won by six lengths. This is the second purse of $100 he has secured since his new owner has more than won him out.

Fred Foster paid several thousand dollars for the services of the veteran Jockey, and Foster's son, Mr. Foster, will be a most serviceable performer. Walsh, no doubt, was aware of this when he offered $1,100 for him.

The latter's offer to sell Simmons to Walsh is $600 to thought to have been a dinger. Foster made this proposition before Walsh ran up Simmons.

The Pastimes' Handicap.

The Pastimes meet the Standard Atheltic Club's slaves at the Colorado metropolis this afternoon. Several of the Pastimes' best players backed out at the last moment and the team will be without the services of Walter, Leonard, Brooks and Whittemore. Leonard was ill, Brooks very lame, and Whittemore had gallstones. The Pastimes' handicap team will consist of Dutton, two of the best boxers, and Schaefer 47½ last night. Ives is regarded as a sure winner.

MINNIE LIGHT Y'LL DICTED.

Harred by the Topkapi Grand Jury for Poisoning Her Husband.

TOKYO, Kan., Nov. 17.—Minnie Lighty has been indicted by the Grand Jury for poisoning her husband, John E. Lighty, who died here Oct. 28, and has been lodged in jail without bond.

Lighty and his wife came here about three months ago from St. Louis, where he had lived for two years, being employed as salesman by the Hills Shoe Company. After moving to Topeka, the husband was said to have been given a small dose of poison to be administered to the secretary to the Standard.

In a case of this kind, the coroner at the standard theater Friday night Harry Parker easily disposed of Frank Edmon. The coroner's jury found that the man had been admitted to the court, and the doctor who had been called to the scene of the accident was unable to make a good showing against them.

Sporting Notes.

Charlie Mitchell expresses an intention of coming to America and says he may challenge the winner of the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight.

St. Louis City and St. Paul were admitted to the Western association, which now has ten clubs. A list of players who will not be employed on account of their bad habits and conduct was furnished to the Secretary.

Tommy Williams, the Australian wrestler, writes that he is coming to this country from England soon to fight Billy Smith again.

Joey Nutall, the champion swimming professional of the world, lowered the 100-yard mark to 56.58 at Manchester, England.

THAT new City Hall mess needs probing.

THE New York 400 are modest. They call it a horse show.The people are entitled to cheaper bread and more slices to the loaf.The people have a right to legal protection from dishonest loafers.IT will take hard work to punish our political rascals after they are caught.WHAT St. Louis needs is a better mail service for St. Louis, not for other cities.WITH a minority of 44,000 votes the Republicans have yet to win supremacy in Missouri.THE colored cover of to-morrow’s SUN-DAY Post-Dispatch will be a brilliant addition to a great newspaper.THE President keeps his plans so close that even his Cabinet Ministers don’t seem to know what they intend to do.THERE are 50,000 Missouri Democrats in the brush and it will take more than loud hallooing to bring them out again.WITH the completion of the plant to give St. Louis more water attention should be given to the matter of rendering the water clearer and better. Let the muddy water reproach of St. Louis be wiped out.STRANGE that no protest has been registered because a bottle of St. Louis beer is not substituted for champagne in the christening of that big liner. But perhaps there would have been objections to a state of such good stuff.OUGHT an architect who makes a mistake of over $1,000,000 in the cost of a building plan, to be rewarded with an additional commission on his blunder? Ought he to be fined or fired? This is the pertinent question in the City Hall mess.HOW LONG can the credit of the country stand the issue of bonds to get gold? How long will the people stand the policy which necessitates the increase of the national debt to meet the obligations and sustain the credit of the Treasury? The United States Government is giving an admirable illustration of how not to run a government’s finances.A PASSAGE in one of the Japanese war
songs runs in this way: “Human life lasts but fifty years; who would wish to purchase a few miserable years of life at the cost of dishonor? March and fire as long as breath remains.” Not so pitiful and pointed as Frederick the Great’s remark to the soldiers who refused to charge on an enemy’s battery for the third time: “Damn you, for cowardly blackguards! Do you want to live forever?”GOOD wishes go with the city officials who are trying to persuade the Suburban Railway Co. to put its trolley wires under ground on Union avenue, but the prospect of success is not good. All the wires should go under ground, but persuasion does not go far with grasping corporations. The way to get the wires under ground and prevent the ruin of streets is through the laws passed and the franchises granted by the Municipal Assembly.THE citizens’ movements for the investigation of local election frauds give promise of a genuine effort to unearthen rascality
in the elections and punish the rascals who have made St. Louis elections a reproach. But if these movements are non-partisan, as they claim to be, there should be no difficulty in their getting together and joining forces. There is no occasion for secrecy or cross purposes in honest public service of this kind.The people will support the men who give their labor and means to purification of the ballot. Let the work be honest and thorough, and let it be understood that all the forces devoted to punishing all who attempt to shield them from punishment.“ON which side of the Ohio River are the people of Ohio living now?” asks an Eastern newspaper, apropos of the situation
in Fayette County, that State, in connection with the attempted lynching of a negro. This is a pretty little tale of New England prejudice, but it is a wise advice shouldnot lead the newspaper to make a mistake
as to the side of the river on which the Fayette County people live. The people on the other side of the river might lynch
a negro rapist and make it worse for all who interfered with the lynching. But they would hardly vote down a Sheriff for doing his duty, as the Fayette County people
did. The only Republican candidate defeated in the county was the Sheriff who defended his prisoner. No New England slings at the Southern people can deprive Ohio of this crown of meanness.HOW DOES it happen that a plan providing for the building of a City Hall to cost $1,200,000, approved by a paid expert and adopted by the Board of Public Improvements, actually costs over $2,000,000—how much over no one knows? Was it a blunder or a job? If it was a job who profits by it and if a blunder whose fault was it? There are enough indications of crookedness on the surface of this municipal monstrosity to justify an investigation.In behalf of the people of St. Louis who must pay the costs the Post-Dispatch demands that the whole truth be made known. Let there be a searching inquiry before another dollar is put into the job.

MUNICIPAL TAX REFORM.

To the official mind there are only two methods of raising the money necessary for the completion of that monument of official short-sightedness and incompetence, the half-finished City Hall. One is by an issue of bonds and the other by a special tax or an increase in the rate of taxation.But the City Hall problem is only a part of a great problem now confronting this city with regard to raising the revenue necessary for public improvements and growing needs. Makeshifts, such as bond issues and special taxes, only postpone
the main issue and add to the difficulties of the final straightening of our municipal business.The truth is that the taxation of this city needs thorough overhauling and radical reforms. If the assessments were properly and justly made on the basis of market values there would probably be no need of an increase in the rate of taxation to obtain adequate revenue, and reform in the methods of collection would render the relieve more effectual.But the objection which meets all propositions for raising assessments or increasing
the tax rate is that St. Louis now pays more than her share of State revenue, and
an increase would make the city’s contribution still more disproportionate and
would be in the nature of a tax for the benefit of the rest of the State. It would relieve the counties of State burdens at the expense of this city.But the objection which meets all propositions for raising assessments or increasing
the tax rate is that St. Louis now pays

an increase would make the city’s contribution still more disproportionate and
would be in the nature of a tax for the benefit of the rest of the State. It would relieve the counties of State burdens at the expense of this city.The interest of the city demand a division of municipal and State taxation. St.
Louis is a new city with greatly enlarged needs. It has outgrown its old resources and antiquated methods. The city should be enabled to raise revenue for increased expenditures and necessary improvements without assuming nearly all the burden of State government.The municipal revenue system should be reformed on a basis which will meet the demands of a great city. But the difficulties of municipal government would not now be one-half so pressing if the authorities enforced the honest collection of revenues and disposed of franchise privileges for the benefit of the people instead of for the benefit of franchise grabbers.THE GREAT ISSUE.
The frank treatment of railroad lawlessness and the need of strong legislation in restraint of corporation aggression and combination which the Post-Dispatch
commended as the cream of the Strike
Commission’s report is bearing good fruit.
Discussing the report, THE WORLD says:There is no more pressing problem now confronting us than that one of what can or should be done to check the dangerous encroachments of corporate power and combined wealth upon the rights and liberties of the people. The problem is nowhere more sharply presented than the tendency of railroad management to combination and conspiracy.After stating that the leaders of the strike were in a fair way to receive punishment for any illegal acts of which they were guilty, the Springfield Republican asks:But what is to become of the lawless combined railroad interests? What is to be done of this whole exhibition of corporate aggrandizement and oppression? What is to be done of this car magnate whose greed
and hardness of heart stirs so intensely the whole miserable affair? Here is the material out of which revolutions spring.In a sermon preached by Washington Gladden in the late Prof. Swing’s pulpit, and which such a conservative pronounced as Lyman J. Gage pronounced sound gospel, was the following:The wage system is shaking to-day as in the grasp of a giant. You cannot be prosperous while you deny the law of nature that makes all guilds, tribes or groups of man
common to the great law of equal rights.
Your partisans who devote themselves so faithfully to party principles are traitors to the common good. Your capitalistic combinations are undermining the very foundation of social prosperity and leading to the destruction of a proud nation.There are hopeful signs that the great problem now confronting the American people is to receive courageous and intelligent attention. Until justice is restored to the laws, equal rights assured all the people under the laws and corporate oppression and robbery checked, either the stability of publica-not the permanent prosperity of the American people can be assured.

BREAD ORDINANCE.

Delegate Henning Receives Assurances
That It Will Be Passed.

Delegate Henning left the city early this week and did not return until a few days before the House of Delegates was called to order last evening. For this reason he was unable to introduce the bread ordinance, upon which he has been at work for the last two weeks. He said, however, that there would be no further delay, and that he would certainly present the ordinance to the House of Delegates next Friday night.

"I think there will be no obstructions placed in the way of its speedy passage," Mr. Henning said. "I have talked with a majority of the members of the House and I find all in full sympathy with the measure. It will pass, I am sure, without any difficulty after I introduce it. I do not know whether there will be any delay in the Council, but from the friendly members present, I am inclined to think it will receive a generous support."

Delegates Sullivan and Gross stood behind Henning while he was talking, and assured him of their support. Both had read the bread articles printed in the Post-Dispatch, and believed it to be in the interest of their constituents and the general public that the sale of bread be regulated by the government.

Mr. Henning also of introducing a similar measure at the coming session of the Missouri Legislature, making a State law that would be in effect the same weight. There is a similar law in effect in Pennsylvania.

NEW MEDICAL SOCIETY.

It Will Be Known as the "Ecclesians Club."

Under the name of "Ecclesians Club" a new association is being formed, composed of the physicians, dentists, druggists and surgical instrument merchants of St. Louis. The object of the club, which will have a clubhouse of its own, is the promotion of social and scientific benefits that accrue to an association of this kind. The club proposes to take part in the sanitary legislation of city and State, and will see to the establishment of examinations by the State of graduating physicians, the improvement of the St. Louis Sanitarium Hospital and various other things looking to the public health. Subscriptions will also be taken for the erection of a new building, and arrangements made for dispensing and other similar preparations will be manufactured.

Prominent members of the profession and professors of natural science from this country and abroad will be invited to lecture before the club, which will also extend its efforts to relieving distress among its members.

The new association, of which Dr. Froehlich is one of the incorporators, is now being organized.

LOVELACE FUND.

Merchants' Exchange Brokers Swell It to $19.

The fund for the purchase of artificial limbs for L. L. Lovelace, the young man who lost his two arms and one of his legs in a railroad accident, has now reached $19. On the day after the first publication of the cripple's unfortunate condition $100 was sent toward the fund, and on the day following there were two more subscriptions of $2 each acknowledged in the 6 o'clock edition of the Post-Dispatch of Thursday.

Still later in the day a communication was received from a merchant who had given $10 for the fund.

Repeating the pitiful story in the Post-Dispatch, this unknown benefactor sent $2 and $10 more.

Lovely is a most deserving one as is only a boy, homeless, friendless, and being taken without pity by the public. Lovelace is a lad who would be enabled to do something for himself and, probably, become a useful member of society if he had a family with his new members. He, at least, would be able to feed himself. Dr. A. V. Lovelace, the young man's father, was made at the time of the accident, and succeeded in saving his life, though he only investigated his case and knew him to be deserving.

The list of contributions to the fund so far is:

Lion M. Bodenheimer..... $1.00
William Senns..... 2.00
M. E. J..... 2.00
Merchants' Exchange brokers..... 12.00
Unknown..... 2.00

CAME TO NAUGHT.

Census of Republican Members of the House of Delegates.

Six or eight of the Republican members of the House of Delegates held a caucus late on Friday afternoon at Casper Kraleman's Room, No. 187 Biddle street, for the purpose of considering the advisability of an attempt to save Henry Bruck in place of Emil Giovannini, for fifteen years a prominent and popular member of the house.

The caucus adjourned with the understanding that the next meeting of the house, with the same members, would be adjourned at an earlier hour.

The dramatic section of the Carondelet Turner Hall, the entertainment of the Carondelet Presbyterian Church has an entertainment at Turner Hall Friday night.

Thank Mrs. C. A. Griscom.

Upon their return home the ladies who accompanied the St. Louis party to the launching of the St. Louis adopted the following, a copy of which was sent to Mrs. Griscom:

The ladies of the St. Louis delegation present their hearty congratulations to Mrs. Griscom, and desire to express to her, Mrs. Griscom, their appreciation of her services in the cause of the poor, and their sympathy in the difficulties she has met with in her efforts to establish a home for the destitute.

They have been largely won to the delightful acquaintance that has formed between Mrs. Griscom and her family, and in the hope that they may be of service to her, the ladies have invited her to their home.

They will wait for another for reminder of cold weather, or you can buy a stove while the stove man has time enough to get it properly set up and in working order. Take particular notice of the trade mark. Buck's Stoves and Ranges are the best. Made in St. Louis.

House of Delegates.

Friday evening's meeting of the House of Delegates was smooth and uneventful, despite the threatenings in certain quarters that there would be trouble. Delegates Giovannini of Elmwood and Almeyer, of the 15th Ward, the pernicious proceedings pending in the Supreme Court, while Mr. Bruck, his opponent, was out in the city, speaking upon the subject of the bread ordinance, the court adjourned to an earlier hour than usual at the previous meeting. A number of unimportant bills were read and referred.

FIGHTING BUTLER.

War Being Waged Against the Garbage Pile by South St. Louis Women.

Col. Edward Butler, who has been having a little difficulty with the citizens of South St. Louis over his rendering plant down there, should certainly be trembling in his boots for the women folks are camping on his trail and they downed his garbage pile, but, unhappily, unknocked. They fairly knocked the eye out, and surely an ordinary police officer, even if he were a member of the Jingle Health Boards and municipal assemblies, ought to be an easy mark.

These women are fighting mad about that garbage plant. They don't call it a "factory," but they do call it a "factory" and the measure it is passing. They hold meetings every two weeks at Schlappitz's Hall and not only denounce it, but take active steps to stop it.

One of these regular meetings was held Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Charles Brademeyer was in charge. Mrs. Charles Brademeyer is the president of the Ladies Society of South St. Louis, and Mrs. Brademeyer and the meeting in both English and German predicting the immediate success of the fight for the removal of the garbage works. Judge Dillon's decision is expected within a few weeks and the women are confident that he will decide in their favor.

The organization was formed last June and has been actively co-operating with the men ever since. Mrs. Brademeyer is the only one of his establishment who do not keep Castoria.

"We will show Mr. Butler," she said, "that there are more than a few of us who are anxious to get rid of his establishment."

She will have to publish them too so that the people may see whether there are few or many of us.

We don't want to do Mr. Butler any harm. It is he who is harming us. For instance, I have a back window in the rear of my place which is closed the stench is even worse than ever.

ORIGIN OF A NEW SPECIES, OR —

ORIGINAL JOKES

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1894.

A REVISED VERSION

OULD AFFORD IT.

First Physician—"Is this a case that demands a consultation?"
Second Physician—"I think it is. The patient is extremely rich."

A SPECTULATION.

Choly Chumpieh—"Yes; gloves are worn in bed at night to make the hands soft." Miss Colada—"Indeed! Do you wear gloves, Mr. Chumpieh?"

NOTHING EXTRAORDINARY.

She—The newspapers say that the women of the poorer class in London are bored. I think that's dreadful. It's—that's nothing. They are used to it—they were born that way.

AND SILENT, TOO.

Scribblesy Little—"How did Congressman Cyclone's speech strike you?" Srawley Smart—"It made me pensive-mately tired."

LOYAL TO THE END.

"Who's that military-looking fellow over there?" The Bride (anxiously)—"Did you get any?"

A QUESTION.

The Bride—"Did you marry me for my money?" The Bride (room)—"Yes." The Bride (anxiously)—"Did you get any?"

OUT SHORT.

Staylate—I don't feel called upon—Ethel Knox (at 12 o'clock)—"Well—yawning) I do."

FOUND OUT.

Tots—I don't see why you insist on going to the continuous performance, Mrs. Tots—There are no acts for you to go out between."

HARD TO SUE.

Jess—That young man is very disagreeable to stare at us that way. The other has looked this way once.

CONFUSING.

"Who is that beautiful blonde?" "My wife, q'rt." "Ah! I beg pardon. The fact is, I proposed to her just now, and—" "And she returned you?"

DRAWING AN INFERENCE.

Witherby—Your little boy—hasn't got any bright things yet, has he?" Plankington—I don't, has he?" "Handsome is that handsome face, you know, What makes you think he hasn't?"

DRAUGHT, AND NO MISTAKE.

"Why—didn't you go that cattail out this fare?" "Stacey—Yes. Handsome is that handsome face, you know, What makes you think he hasn't?"

BEAUTY AND NO MISTAKE.

"Handsome is that handsome face, you know, What makes you think he hasn't?"

BILL NYE WRITES A TRUE STORY OF THE SOUTH.

INDEPENDENCE.

1894, by MAGE W. NYE

1894, the death of

I Meet Them on the Street.

I'm acquainted with a lady. And when I meet her on the street She looks at me like this—

I know another maiden, Who always stares straight at me— With a look of mild surprise—

Then there's a dashing, sporty girl Who's always "up to snuff." The wink with which she greets me—

A blonde, with big blue eyes, With a look of mild surprise—

Sometimes I meet my landlady; Her kindest are most churlish;

For I'm very sorry to confess I'm very on my laundry bill—

Not least, but last, I meet a girl Who's always "up to snuff." She's a Christian Endeavor maiden With devout uplifted eyes—

A Deserved Reproach.

Dunn, Dunn, my huckleberry Dunn. What have you gone and done, Dunn? And you care not here and in London? Cyclones are artful, very, Dunn—

We all know some desperate— That didn't materialize.

It Just Depends.

"Darling Ethel," he tenderly whispered. "Would you like to live in a cottage, Where no one should live but us two?" "Yes, Charlie," she said, blushing

And off, without a backward glance, Went to the perfection of Newport.

The Correct Idiom.

"Meader's got a new Sunday suit in Miss Maydow's sewing class at the mission. Why don't he never wear 'em?"

"Asked another little girl, triumphantly softly. "Ethel, Katie!" said Miss Whistow, all about it in her own way."

"Yes, miss, he can't wear 'em now."

"How old is he, explained Maggie. 'He didn't kiss 'em, miss; day was stolen!'"

"That is too bad! How did it happen?" "Well, she sees, miss, one day when he was off to his work, an' under was gone out to do a day's workin' for Mrs. Van Nobs, and I had fallen for the baby out to the park for to get the baby body break into our room, and some new Sunday pants on him!"

"Exactin' that on him? You don't mean low, with an indolent smile."

"'Now, 'she don't,' cried Katie, scornful."

"She don't know how to talk them off him."

"What she means is they still forget all about her own bruised knee and scratched hands. Crying she tried to peer over the side of the seat into the water. Try as she would, she could not catch a glimpse of Lavinia's pink dress or her blue ribbons. But Sam, the garden-creature, heard poor Lavinia crying, and ran to the window to see what was the matter.

"She has fallen into the well! Oh, get her out! Get her out! Poor Lavinia!"

"So Sam set out the bucket, and then with the help of a long pole, he
